

2013-14

Following the suggestion of CIS' Dan Orwin, the CCC was created in the summer of 2013 by Jamie Mitchell of St Faith's, who chaired the first meeting. The other founding members were Rob Henderson of King's College School and Nick Jackson, who coached at the other three schools in the league. At this point, the competition was called the Cambridge Chess Championship as all competing schools were from the city.

The inaugural championship was contested by six schools with every school playing every other school twice, home and away. Dates for matches were agreed by the coaches at mutually convenient times. There were five players in each team and the CCC received no sponsorship.

The league was settled on 27th March 2014 when Perse Prep narrowly edged out King's in the match that would decide the championship, with the two schools competing in the CCC's first ever chess match on Tuesday 8th October 2013.
